

READING CIRCLE MEETS

MOTHERS ASSEMBLE AT HOME OF MRS. C. H. TOLL AFTER VACATION

After a vacation of three weeks, the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle resumed work yesterday, meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles H. Toll on Kenneth Road.

The book, "Children's Rights," by Kate Douglas Wiggin, was completed with the reading of the chapters, "The Relation of the Kindergarten to the Public School," and "Other People's Children." At the next meeting, Aug. 9, the entire book will be reviewed by means of a questionnaire covering the salient points; after which the members will bring in their papers to be sent to the National Bureau of Education at Washington.

The introductory pages of the fifth book under consideration, "The Dawn of Character," by Edith E. Read Mumford, M. A., a distinguished scholar and woman of letters of England, were read.

Since a person may read any of the books on the list at any time, it is recommended that those expecting to affiliate with this circle should come to the next meeting (Wednesday, Aug. 9), that they may miss as little of the reading of the new book as possible. There is no restriction placed upon the membership; anyone desirous of learning how to become a more efficient mother is entirely qualified to attend. There are no dues, neither is there any educational qualification necessary beyond the power to comprehend the text of the books read. A membership in the Parent-Teacher association is not a requisite; in fact, the circle is the most democratic thing imaginable.

It was decided at this meeting that all members should read for themselves the five fictional works in the course. These are "Mother," by Kathleen Norris; "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," by Kate Douglas Wiggin; "The House of Happiness," by Kate Langley Bosher; "Bobbie, General Manager," by Olive Higgins Prouty; and "Pollyanna, the Glad Book," by Mrs. Porter. The reviews for these books may be sent to Washington at any time, upon completion.

The circle is indebted to the courtesy of Mrs. A. M. Beamon, a member, for complimentary tickets to the Symphony Theater, Los Angeles, to witness the presentation of an unusually attractive and clean play, the scene of which is laid in that wonderfully beautiful part of America, the Thousand Islands of the St. Lawrence. It is called "The River of Romance."

Members present yesterday were, Mrs. A. M. Beamon, G. J. Blech, C. M. Brubaker, R. T. Burr, Harry Ducey, H. H. Faries, H. V. Henry, C. A. Lehman, O. C. Logan, Ernest McConnell, A. L. Morgan, O. H. Ormsby, C. E. Rathbone, E. Riskin, Charles H. Toll, and a new member, Mrs. C. E. Eckman.

Fifteen youngsters, children of the members, were under the able care of Miss Mattie Belle Provolt, who read to them, and gave cutting and folding exercises, which are to form a part of a book under construction.

The members enjoyed basket lunches, supplemented by ice-cold lemonade and iced tea. During the luncheon hour conversation is brisk, while needle-work and fancy work, as well as mending and darning, occupy the hands of the members during the time devoted to reading.

GLENDALE VOLUNTEERS

The Glendale company of volunteers is making excellent progress in drill. There was a good attendance Wednesday night when the company met in the drill hall, corner of First and Glendale. Captain Johnson had secured one of the new Springfield rifles, the weapon of the modern American army, and much interest was taken by the men in the exemplification of the handling, loading and firing of the piece. Squad drill and company drill showed that the drills are beginning to effect some precision and co-ordination of movement in the men. Those of the company who intend to go to the Tropic drill will assemble at the fire house as they did last week.

BOY SCOUTS

Twenty-five Boy Scouts belonging to Glendale Troop No. 1 and Troop No. 2 have gone to spend a week at Hermosa Beach, under the supervision of Charles B. Guthrie, scoutmaster of Troop No. 1, and D. A. Lane, scoutmaster of Troop No. 2. The boys will be under training all the time.

LOCAL GARDEN SPOT

GLENDALE SANITARIUM POSSESSES VARIED FLOWER AND SHRUB BEAUTIES

In the heart of Glendale, on one of its principal streets, a wonderful spot of floral beauty has grown up so insensibly that it is taken largely for granted and its many beauties are apt to escape the local eye. Not so with strangers, however, any day in the week visitors may be seen standing gazing in admiration at the beautiful grounds of the Glendale Sanitarium.

"This garden was started eight years ago," said G. S. Smith, the competent guardian of this local Eden. "At that time I came to take charge of it. Then there was nothing in connection with the Sanitarium except a piece of lawn. This was gradually altered. Bit by bit we cultivated and planted; walks were laid out, trees were planted for shelter and for shade and as the years quickly passed we found ourselves embowered in this little Paradise.

"Those who take merely a cursory glance at the grounds are not readily made aware of the number and variety of different trees, shrubs and flowers we have here.

"Pansies, chrysanthemums, asters, sweet peas, immortelles, antirrhinums are here in abundance. We need them for table decoration. Those who have attended the public dinners given at the Sanitarium cannot have failed to have noticed the profusion of cut flowers that always has adorned the rooms and the tables. We supply our own flowers all the year round. The only flowers I have even known us to buy were carnations and that was only after we had run out of our own.

"There are thirty different varieties of dahlias here. They are a beautifully decorative lot and always look well in the grounds also. We have 150 different kinds of roses. Every species is here from the little pink rose to the magnificent American beauty and the splendid tea rose. All the modern varieties are here.

"Here are scabiosa and dianthus and fuchsias by the score. Look at that beautiful blue plumbago. Blue flowers are rare, it must be remembered.

"Here is a flowering eucalyptus, quite a rare variety. Here is the streptosolon, which gets its name from its twisted trumpetlike flowers. It is a beautiful orange. Spanish broom lends its beauty to the varied scene. Here are multifolia hedges, borders of California privet, Japanese privet, Regalis privet and the dwarf lantana, that orange flower with the dark center.

"Among the trees are the Australian silk oak, twenty different varieties of palms, including the date palm, which yields its fruit in due season; the handsome catalpa, the magnolia, the oleander, both the white and the pink variety. Hollyhocks grow in great abundance and variety; there are gladioli, many colors of iris and ferns of many kinds. There is an avocado or aligator pear, which is coming so much into fashion.

"In the greenhouse we have at least thirty varieties of cacti. Then there are begonias, plumosus, petunias of all colors and many others for decoration. There are beautiful cedar trees and a protecting fringe of eucalyptus on one side of the grounds and throughout all the old-fashioned honeysuckle with its ever welcome fragrance.

"The sanitarium has done everything to make its exterior as fitting a setting for the stimulation of health as the methods that are so successfully employed inside. Here is a complete modern croquet ground, for those who like that old, scientific game. Here is a modern tennis court and you can see how the residents in the sanitarium take advantage of both.

"Other adjuncts to the building are a laundry where we do a considerable part of our own laundry work, the rest going to the Glendale Laundry. We also do all of our own repairing, plumbing, painting and such work. The institution is complete in itself and not the least complete section of it is the garden."

TO SELL CANDLES

Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, chairman of the Glendale committee that is assisting in the San Fernando candle day celebration, has selected the following young ladies to sell candles at the Mission on August 6, the day of the celebration: Misses Evangeline Hunchberger, Esther Schremp, Ernestine Lyon, Katherine Renshaw and Mary Hunt.

FRENCH AND BRITISH CONSOLIDATE GAINS

ALLIES FORTIFYING POSITIONS RECENTLY TAKEN FROM GERMANS IN PICARDY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Aug. 3.—The present lull in the fighting on the Picardy front is to be ascribed to the fact that both the British and the French are consolidating the gains recently made by them during their thrust through the German defense. The Germans have massed the largest force of artillery they have yet employed, on their third line, and the artillery duel goes on incessantly. It is believed that another attack on the German third line will be made within a few days.

GERMAN AIR RAID DID NO DAMAGE

ZEPPELIN ATTACK ON EASTERN COUNTIES OF ENGLAND PRODUCES NO EFFECT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Aug. 3.—The latest German Zeppelin air raid on the eastern counties of England was productive of no damage of importance. A few villagers' homes were destroyed; some horses and cattle belonging to small farmers were killed. The six Zeppelins appeared to be in haste and in fear of the anti-aircraft guns. One of the airships was hit and badly damaged.

NEXT CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE WILL VOTE ON INTRODUCTION OF PARI MUTUEL SYSTEM

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WARNED OF RAILWAY STRIKE DANGER

PRESIDENT FACES TREMENDOUS ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL PERIL IN RAILROAD SITUATION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 3.—President Wilson is faced by a tremendous political and economic danger in the threatened strike of more than 300,000 railway employes throughout the country. The strike would undoubtedly assume national proportions. The government has been aware of the threatening conditions for some time but has believed that a settlement would be reached. The president is just beginning to realize the gravity of the situation. A recent vote showed that a vast majority of the men favor a strike. President Wilson has requested a conference with Commissioner Chambers of the United States Board of Mediation and Conciliation.

GERMANS WAR ON UNARMED VESSELS

BRITISH REPORT THAT DURING THE PAST YEAR THE TEUTONS HAVE DESTROYED 340,000 TONS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Aug. 3.—It is officially recorded here that during the past year the Germans have sunk 340,000 tons of unarmed vessels. The loss of life was considerable. Most of the crews were given very little time to get away before the vessels were torpedoed and there were many instances of wanton cruelty.

BIRD AND FLOWER CLUB

VISIT THE WHIPPLE RANCH AND ENJOY NATURE AT VERDUGO PARK

Notwithstanding the excessive heat, 23 children and two adults started gayly off at 2 o'clock yesterday to Verdugo Park. They alighted from the street car at Wabasso avenue and visited the Whipple ranch where 500 rabbits are kept. Almost as interesting as the rabbits was a large clump of bamboo, upon which goldfinches swayed merrily back and forth in the brilliant sunshine. Bidding goodbye to the rabbits and bees, all reared in strictly scientific fashion, the club entered Verdugo Park and strolled along the winding paths, enjoying the grateful shade, and admiring beautiful butterflies and other winged insects as they darted here and there amongst the shrubs or fluttered over the babbling brook. Then followed a merry time with the swings.

About 3:30 all the members gathered around one of the long tables—picnic tables—and listened to the reading of the letters handed in by many of the young people. The children unanimously selected those written by Agnes Thaxter, Dorothy Sherman, Dorothy Woods and Grace Tower as the four best; these four were accordingly awarded honor buttons. A very interesting half hour was then spent over a Flower puzzle, kindly sent by Mrs. Ella Richardson; young brows knitted over solving the problems, while pencils and paper were in great demand. Ten of the twelve questions were solved; but numbers 5 and 6 baffled everybody. Mrs. Woods offered a special prize to the children who would bring correct solutions of these two problems next Wednesday. The puzzle follows. Suppose readers of the News try their hand at it, and send in replies?

1. An animal and a stately flower.
2. A fog and the king of beasts.
3. A dairy product and a small vessel.
4. The polar region and a common flower.
5. A healing oil and a well liked fruit.
6. A warm bed covering and a blossom.
7. A color and a hollow, ringing vessel.
8. A quadruped and a hand covering.
9. Time to close afternoon session of school.
10. A domestic animal and timber.
12. An evergreen and a Rhenish wine.

Mrs. F. W. Kille with several children took the car home; many, however, elected to walk, so Mrs. Woods remained to chaperone the pedestrians. The dustiness of the road was pleasantly relieved by a visit to the Sunkist Orange Packing house, where as many oranges were given to the children as they could carry. Caps, hats, pockets and arms were soon filled. Thus ended the seventh happy meeting of the Bird and Flower club.

FIRE IN PILING

Glendale fire department was called out by an alarm of fire, Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Captain Emil Schroeder, Walter Eves and Paul Frank responded. The fire was discovered to be between Brand boulevard and N. Louise street, where some agency had set fire to one of the big piles driven in on the bank of the Wash for protection from floods. The fire was speedily extinguished. The origin of the fire has not been ascertained.

MAKING A MINE

E. E. FULLER OF GOFFS TELLS OF DEVELOPMENT OF TUNGSTEN PROPERTY

E. E. Fuller, of Goffs, Cal., who is in Glendale at present, which he makes headquarters for his operations in connection with the tungsten property he and H. R. Sibley of 1517 Penn street and others are developing, is very sanguine over the mining prospects there. He visited one of the directors of the company.

"A great deal of work," said Mr. Fuller, "goes to the development of a tungsten mine. It is not a question of going out and finding ore that can be immediately turned into money. From the very outset difficulties are inevitably encountered in the development of a mine of this sort. We have been occupied for a considerable time in the securing of enough capital to carry on the necessary improvements and now are in a fair way to see the realization of our hopes.

"This property is particularly rich in tungsten ore. The chief ore on the property is wolframite. The large specimen of this ore which has been displayed in the window of the News' office gives an idea of what this ore is. Tungsten, however, is also found in other ores such as scheelite and huberite. One peculiarity of this property is that all three of these ores are found there. I believe that is a very rare condition. It shows that the property is very rich in tungsten.

"Just at present we are making preparations for the erection of a stamp mill which will enable us to start on the crushing of the ore and the production of concentrates. We will then be able to see just how rich the mine is. That it is rich we all know already, but exactly how rich we do not know. At present we are working on the surface ore which outcrops in a very convenient manner for us.

"After a while we will follow the leads down and I feel reasonably certain that the tungsten values will increase with depth. Our mill should be up within thirty days. The whole district is rich in tungsten. It is a close second to Atolia, the great tungsten district of California. It must be remembered, however, that a great part of the tungsten values at Atolia have been drawn from placer deposits. I believe that within a year's time Goffs will rival Atolia and ultimately surpass it. The district is larger than that at Atolia and there will be no want of capital for the development."

DEATH OF JUDGE STAHL

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hennon of 436 Everett street received a message this morning from Mrs. Hennon's sister, Mrs. Charles L. Black, who resides in Johnstown, Pa., bringing the sad news of the death of Judge S. F. Stahl, father of Mrs. Hennon and Mrs. Black. The message stated that Judge Stahl had passed away peacefully and unexpectedly last night.

It will be remembered that Judge and Mrs. Stahl, who have their home on Cedar street, Glendale, left this city on May 23 on a visit to their daughter in Johnstown, intending to return to Glendale again this fall.

The deceased was born in Missouri 65 years ago and resided in that state until coming to California three years ago this fall. Besides his two daughters he is mourned by his widow and two sons, Richard F. Stahl of Chicago and Dr. C. S. Stahl of Fort Smith, Ark.

Judge Stahl was an elder in the First Presbyterian church of Glendale. Other members of his family have passed away suddenly and he had often stated that he expected and was ready at any time to be called the same way.

No further details as to his death or funeral arrangements will be known here for a few days.

H. C. TUPPER

In the death of H. C. Tupper there passed from the business life of Glendale a man whose friendship, together with square business dealing, was manifest among a large circle of acquaintances. His liberal spirit and genuine interest in all with whom he came in contact, will be remembered for many years to come.

Mr. Tupper was the son of Samuel Henry Tupper of Truro, N. S., of an old and well known family. The father and two sisters still live in Truro, and Mr. Tupper's remains will be buried in the family plot there. Besides these there are two brothers in Duluth, Minn.

Funeral services were held yesterday morning. The Rev. S. Lawrence Ward, former pastor, assisted Rev. W. E. Edmonds.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, AUGUST 3, 1916

VALUE OF NATURE STUDY

Many persons were interested in the little party of adults, boys and girls, that started out Wednesday for a trip to the Whipple ranch and Verdugo park, under the care of Mrs. Nanno Woods and other members of the Bird and Flower club, which is a section of the Glendale Garden society. This club has the laudable and beneficial object of endeavoring to open wide the eyes of its members to the sights and sounds of nature, to the wonders of plant world and profoundly interesting ways and habits of animals of all kinds.

This is a most worthy society and those who started it on its career of usefulness have their reward in the developing senses of the children who take so profound an interest in what is going on on every side. Man is still natural. He cannot get away from his past and be normal. The past chains him. The ties that bind him to remote antiquity are myriad. They are forces that cannot be broken. Primitive beliefs and even superstitions still hold men and women in the twentieth century.

The young child is still a little savage, born with habits and senses, inherited from dim and forgotten ages. He may have a greater aptitude for culture than his savage ancestors, but when he is brought into touch with the primitive things of the world his old natural life wells up in him. Man has not yet escaped his natural environment. He is daily brought into touch with things that affect him, the temperature of the air, the attacks of insects and bacteria; his individual energy, his racial achievements are more or less according to climate and the abundance or scarcity of natural resources.

If man is successful in conquering nature it is just as true that he is in danger of being conquered by his own civilization, which is not only not based on nature but which violates nature's laws to man's vital injury. We are still children of nature and it is still necessary to take cognizance of our natural surroundings.

Just for these reasons children are interested in flowers, insects and trees. They like to play in water and they have a fondness for sand both inside and out. The materials that are at hand are the best instruments for a child's education. The first step in the education of a child is to gain attention. To do that you must put before the child something that takes hold of his interest. Mental faculties develop by use. Plants and growing things that compose the outside world are the best media for educating any child.

This of course does not exclude the ordinary education; but there is no course of education that should exclude nature study. Children should know the names and the uses of all plants and flowers that grow in their neighborhood. Nature study is not geography, history or biology, physics or anthropology; but it may take facts freely from these and other sciences. The ocean beach is an ideal place for nature study. Gardening is nature study. Along with the mastery of the tools of knowledge, specially his own language, the child may every day be learning something of the natural facts of the field, the stream, the wood, the ocean, the shore. That is a knowledge that dissipates prejudices and meannesses and develops the larger heart and the kindlier hand.

BEAVERS IN CALIFORNIA

In the days when Kentucky was known as "the dark and bloody ground" California had as great a variety of animal life as any of the well-stocked states. Kentucky boasted of having then every variety of "Fur, fin and feather" to be found in the United States. It is amazing to find how great a difference a few decades could make.

It is not civilization but the lack of it that denuded the forests of animal life; that emptied the lakes and rivers of fish and that exterminated many varieties of wild birds. The wonder is that any of them survived the slaughter. Civilization is now repairing the destruction that the lack of civilization perpetrated.

At one time the different counties of California were alive with beaver. The Indian hunted the animal at the request of the white man; but the Indian knew enough to let the animals alone in mating and breeding season and gave them a chance to replenish their denuded ranks. The white man, living for the hour, killed the beaver in season and out of season and soon made it worth no one's while to hunt the animals as so few of them were left.

In California, where once the beaver abounded to so very great an extent he is now almost extinct and would be so altogether were it not for the protection that has recently been thrown about him by the government. The total protection given the golden beaver (Castor subauratus) in 1911 seems to have allowed these animals to increase greatly. Near Mendota, in Fresno county, there are now at least a dozen colonies. The largest colony is to be found on Belle Island just above the large dam constructed by the Miller & Lux company.

There is to be found a beaver house 16 feet long, 10 feet wide and six feet high. This is inhabited by about 40 individuals. Several smaller colonies are reported as existing on one of the Miller & Lux canals a short distance below the Mendota dam. There are also three or four colonies on the San Joaquin river some distance above the dam.

According to all reports there were not more than three or four pairs of beavers in that vicinity five years ago when a closed season was instituted. At present there are certainly more than fifty individuals within a radius of five miles and they seem to be increasing rapidly.

Permission has been obtained from the superintendent of the Yosemite National park to introduce into the lower part of the Yosemite valley a number of golden beavers. The Fish & Game commission will attempt to transplant several of these animals from the Cache Slough district of Solano county to the Yosemite. In the National park they will receive careful protection, and as conditions are ideal in the park, the animals should increase rapidly and

GLENDALE FOOTHILLS

O. M. Clinton, 1616 Ruth street, while driving with a friend, Monday, met with a serious accident. The Ford machine, in which he was seated, tipped over, throwing the two men out on the street, at the corner of San Rafael and Dryden streets. Mr. Clinton broke his collar bone and three ribs. The other party in the auto was uninjured. The accident took place toward evening and it is thought that some part of the auto gave way causing the accident.

Mrs. L. S. Drake of Melrose avenue, who has been quite seriously ill for a considerable time, is now slowly recovering, to the great comfort of her friends.

Mr. Howard Alston and Mrs. Alston of Edendale motored to the Foothills Tuesday and visited some of their many friends in this neighborhood.

SELLING PAPERS THREE TIMES OVER

Over in China they sell the same newspaper three times in succession. After the first readers of the papers are through with them, collectors gather them up and redistribute them among the lower classes. Later, the papers are again collected and sent to the villages and country sections, where they are sold at a much reduced rate. The fact that the papers are several days old does not seem to trouble the average Chinese reader in the least. This interesting information is given in a report on advertising in China which has been made to the United States Department of Commerce by Commercial Attaché Julian H. Arnold, stationed at Peking. He gives some other very interesting facts as to the newspaper business in China. The Chinese newspaper, as a matter of fact, is a creation of the last twenty years, he says, although foreign newspapers have been in existence much longer than that. The value of the foreign newspapers published in the treaty ports as advertising mediums has increased considerably in recent years, as many Chinese are now conversant with English, French and German. It is only very recently that the Chinese newspapers themselves have been looked upon with any favor by foreign advertisers. The Chinese newspaper has led a very precarious existence, its ownership constantly changing. Today, however, there are many of these papers that have attained a recognized place in the communities in which they circulate.

WATER LEAKS HEARD

An ingenious method of detecting leaks in water pipes of large manufacturing concerns, where most of the water supply goes through a meter, has been devised. The appearance of the instrument used is much like the receiver of a standard telephone. The point of the instrument is placed in contact with an iron rod driven into the ground, or to the key which has been placed in position on a street surface valve, and if there is any leak in the vicinity it is betrayed by sounds on the instrument.

U. S. LEADS IN PATENTS

The Patent Office records show that the United States leads the world in the matter of inventions. Last year over 40,000 patents were issued by the Patent Office, exclusive of those on designs, and a little over 4,000 of these were granted to residents of foreign countries. The rapid growth of invention in the United States is shown by the fact that in 1828 only 438 patents were issued. The Patent Office has one of the biggest filing jobs in the world. It is compelled to keep copies of patents for sale and the number of these copies is now 447,000,000. The building overflows with them and is sometimes requires much hunting to unearth a copy of a patent.

THE WALKING FERN

An interesting fern known as the walking fern has been planted and is under study at the Museum of the Brooklyn Institute. It is found in certain localities of the New England States and westward to Kansas, usually growing on moss-covered rocks or near the bases of cliffs. The fronds when fully developed are from six to fifteen inches long, their tips reaching down into the moss or crevices of the rocks, where they develop young plants of two or three tiny fronds.

At the latter stage a mass of fine rootlets forms and holds the little leaf in position. After several months the long frond to which the little plant is attached becomes withered, and the young ferns send out fronds which produce plants. It is said that in a few years a single plant, under favorable conditions, will develop into a whole colony.

thus rehabilitate a region long since depopulated by the trapper. Reduced to very small numbers in California the beaver is now on the increase, and if given protection will doubtless re-establish itself elsewhere. Reports from the eastern states show that when afforded protection the beaver has increased rapidly. The same result may be expected here and if the increase should continue we may expect that this valuable fur-bearing mammal will become important commercially.

STUDENTS AS DIGGERS

Owing to the inability of University authorities to raise $275,000 for a Physics-Engineering Building at New York University, the students decided to begin the work by excavating for the foundation. In a petition to the University Council 700 undergraduates asked permission to begin the digging, and facilitate the work with student contributions. The committee of students solicited the co-operation of their college mates, and squads of excavators were organized with picks, shovels and wheelbarrows. The operations will be carried on by groups of fifty students, who will devote all their spare time to the work of digging out a rectangle ten feet deep for the basement of the building. It has been estimated that 100,000 cubic feet of earth will be removed before the project is completed.

Hahn Completes Encouraging Tour

Mr. Edwin F. Hahn, of Pasadena, candidate for Congress in the Ninth District, together with Mr. Clark A. Moore, his campaign secretary, have just completed a tour of the district, getting in touch with the political situation, data, information, and so forth, placing his claims before the people in person and by press.

They have received most helpful words of encouragement for the success of Mr. Hahn's candidacy and the campaign efforts will be pushed forward until the primaries by liberal advertising and personal solicitation by his many friends and supporters. Mr. Hahn will make a personal tour and canvass of each locality, making speeches and holding personal interviews in the districts and has a desire to meet all voters and have their personal acquaintance, as far as possible.

ENGAGEMENT SHOWER

Quite a unique shower party assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lúsbý, Jackson street, Tuesday afternoon, to mark the engagement of Miss Mabel Salisbury, Mrs. Lúsbý's niece, to Mr. Francis Wayland Parsons, Jr. The house was beautifully decorated with pink carnations and ferns. The color scheme throughout was pink. The crowning feature of the party was the charming ceremony arranged for the presentation of the shower of gifts. At a certain stage of the entertainment a party of the guests came into the room with a rocking chair tastefully decked with smilax and flowers. In this they placed the bride-to-be and crowned her with a wreath of smilax. Meanwhile Miss Maud Salisbury played the wedding march. Then the guests one by one showered her with gifts.

After this pleasing ceremony dainty refreshments were served. The color scheme of pink was carried out in the refreshments. Then a pleasant time was enjoyed with a Shakespearean guessing contest and other games. The guests present were:

Mrs. Charles Munson, Mrs. Knaus, Miss Bessie Wright, Mrs. W. A. Schickler, Mrs. E. U. Emery, Miss Waunita Emery, Miss Loie Hunt, Mrs. E. B. Pingree, Miss Helen Wright, Mrs. C. Raymond Lúsbý, Mrs. J. Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. McKee of New York city were the guests the first of the week of their aunt, Miss Hannah L. McKee, of San Ysidro road. Mr. McKee composes music especially for musical records. He is the director of the McKee orchestra of New York. Immediately after their visit with Miss McKee, they left for the San Diego exposition.

Miss Doris Burns Is Honored

Misses Gertrude and Bobbie Van Battum were the hostesses to a party of young people Thursday night of last week. The occasion was in honor of Miss Doris Burns of Erie, Pennsylvania, niece of Mrs. Mehard. A marshmallow and wiener roast were features of the evening and to obviate all danger of fire the party was held in the big wash just east of Pine street. Those present were Misses Doris Burns, Bertha Fehr, Louise McClement, Helen and Alice Green, Gertrude and Bobbie Van Battum, Messrs. Robert Rowley and Paul Johnson of Sunland, Frank Green, Bruce Parmenter, Wallace and Don Wieman. The party was chaperoned by Mrs. Mehard and Mrs. Burns.

Friday Morning Round Table

The regular meeting of the members of the Round Table met in the little grove just off of Sunset boulevard last Friday morning. It was noticed that several members were absent. The day was pleasant though warm and it was agreeable to all present to be so near Mrs. Shellers' ice cream parlors where ices and coffee were ordered for the luncheon hour. The next meeting will finish the book, "The Coming People," which has roused so much pleasant and profitable discussion. The Round Table meets again this morning at the same place.

Mrs. Malster and Miss McConnell, nurses from Los Angeles, are here and are enjoying a month's vacation from their duties. They are at the home of Miss McKee.

Mrs. Merkwitz and son Wesley of Bakersfield, who have been here for about a month, left last Wednesday for Redondo and other beaches for a visit before their return home. Mr. Merkwitz came here to escape an attack of hay fever and Wesley for relief from asthma. Both have been greatly benefitted by their sojourn in our valley.

H. S. Humphries Hurt

Word was received here last Saturday of the serious accident in which Mr. Humphries was a prominent figure. He was badly hurt about the head, by being knocked down and run over by an auto on the streets of Los Angeles. Mr. Humphries has a wife and four daughters. The family formerly resided here for some time but have been away for more than a year. Mr. Humphries was rushed to the hospital at once, where the doctors pronounced his injuries to be very grave. At this writing it is reported that Mr. Humphries' condition seems more favorable for recovery.

Sunday evening, because of the extreme heat, there were no Federation services, after the Christian Endeavor meeting, which was led by Don Wieman. The young people remained a while after their regular meeting and held a song fest.

Mrs. Burns and daughter, Miss Doris, after a delightful visit of more than two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Mehard of Stephen's Way, started today on the return trip to their home in Erie, Pennsylvania, which is also the old home of the Mehards.

Mr. P. J. Blake is experimenting with different plants, trees and so forth at his ranch. Among the latter is the Papaya, a number of the young growth of which he has generously distributed throughout the colony. The Papaya has a fruit resembling the cantaloupe both in appearance and taste and if it can be made to grow here will be quite an acquisition to our fruit supply.

Last Tuesday Mrs. Read and Mrs. Chase of east El Centro avenue spent the day at Long Beach.

Miss Benedict was a visitor to Glendale last Tuesday.

Miss Arthur and Mrs. Kearney were shopping in Los Angeles last Tuesday. They found the weather extremely warm and uncomfortable in the city.

Woman's Club Entertainment
Friday evening, August 4, entertainment under the auspices of the Woman's club. A silver offering will be taken. Ice cream and cake will be served after the program. Money goes to the flag fund.

Town Meeting

Owing to an accident causing injury to his eye while campaigning at Wilton and Long Beach, Capt. Helms, candidate for district attorney, could not keep his appointment for a speech at the town meeting Tuesday evening. However, he thinks he will be sufficiently recovered to be present at the next meeting. Mr. Ashby announced that he would invite Mr. Owen, another candidate for supervisor, to be present next week.

Mr. Rockey, the weather man, was asked for a report as to the temperature for the past few days. He reported Sunday 101 degrees, Monday 101 degrees and Tuesday 104 degrees. Wednesday not quite so high but still uncomfortably warm.

It was stated that a simple remedy to do away with aphids in the melon and cucumber patches was to plant nasturtiums among the vines.

Again the subject of a Harvest Home festival was brought up but just now there does not seem to be much enthusiasm. The weather is too hot; perhaps when this warm spell is abated the people will feel more like undertaking something special. The colony ought surely to have something of the sort within the next two months.

It is expected to have a Riley program one week from next Tuesday night at the town meeting.

C. H. Clark made the statement that he had been present at a meeting advocating woman's suffrage conducted by Elizabeth Cady Stanton as early as 1865 and that he had been an advocate of this movement ever since. At the present time Mr. Ashby stated that the candidates have to cater to the women's vote where they formerly catered to the rum and liquor element. That Dr. Anna Shaw stated that one of the strongest arguments for woman suffrage was the raising of the standard of character of the candidates for public office.

It is expected that our local post man will soon be carrying the mail by auto instead of the old way. However the original plan for the changing of the routes will not be made.

There is at the present time $1800 available for permanent improvement in our valley. If some ruling spirit will only deflect our portion of it in this direction it will cause a glad surprise.

A meeting of the people interested in the industry of fur-bearing rabbits was called directly after the town meeting last Tuesday evening. Mrs. Woodruff acted as chairman. This meeting was called for the purpose of considering the advisability of attempting this industry. Mr. P. J. Blake gave a report of a visit made recently by himself and Mr. Derlington to the Fur Bearing Rabbit Farm. The two gentlemen rather advocate the attempt as these little creatures require no more care and the expense of feeding is no greater than for the Belgian hare and if the experiment is successful the profit is many times greater.

Among those who sought relief from the recent hot weather and joined the general exodus to the mountains were Dr. E. F. Archer and Dr. L. N. Rudy, who spent the past week camping and fishing at Big Bear lake. They returned Sunday evening filled with enthusiasm over the beautiful trip along the "Rim of the World" route above San Bernardino, which was enjoyed at sunrise, and also for the wonders of Bear Valley as a place for camping and recreation. However, both consistently refuse to discuss the fishing.

A. C. Cobb is having a new garage built. The garage which he is using at present will be rebuilt into a bungalow for the hired help.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Scheuner entertained as guests last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. J. Hettinger, Miss Schulze, Mrs. L. Keller, Miss Helen Keller, John Hettinger, Jr., and Robert Hettinger, all of Eagle Rock. Dinner was served under the beautiful oaks which surround the Scheuner home.

BURBANK

Mrs. O. C. Lane and daughter and Mrs. L. S. Morse and daughter of Ocean Park returned Sunday evening from a two weeks' stay at the Lane ranch near Bakersfield.

Mrs. Josephine Jenkins and daughters, who formerly conducted the Exchange Restaurant, has leased the large residence at the corner of Angeleno and First, where she moved on Wednesday of this week.

A. O. Kendall and wife returned Sunday from a two weeks' stay at San Diego.

Restaurant Changes Ownership

On Tuesday of this week Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bond took possession of the Exchange Restaurant, which they purchased of Mrs. Josephine Jenkins over a week ago, and the firm name will henceforth be known as the Bond Restaurant. B. B. Bond, formerly at Hogle's Confectionery, will assist Mrs. H. C. Bond in conducting the business and this restaurant will soon be one of the most up-to-date eating places in the San Fernando valley. Large gas ranges, steam cabinets and new fixtures have been installed at a considerable expense, the new proprietors believing that the city of Burbank can support a well equipped and properly managed cafe.

Burbank Bakery Sold

Changes in business in Burbank are indeed coming thick and fast. A deal was recently consummated whereby C. S. Brown of Santa Paula purchased the Burbank Bakery of Mrs. E. J. Robbins. Mr. Brown will be assisted in an advisory capacity by his brother of Los Angeles, who is a baker of over twelve years' experience. While the patronage of this local concern is already very good, business will be stimulated so that the present output of bakery supplies will soon be doubled. Mr. Brown and wife, with their family of three children, arrived in Burbank Wednesday evening of this week. Mr. and Mrs. Robbins have as yet made no definite plans for the future.

A Warm Trustees' Meeting

The trustees of the City of Burbank held their regular meeting at the Burbank city hall Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 p. m. The temperature, however, in the city hall was so high that the session was a short one and was adjourned until Thursday evening at 7:30 p. m.

LA CANADA

A large number of jolly young ladies of the valley formed a party who attended the matinee at Clune's Theater in Pasadena, Wednesday, July 26. The young ladies motored over in several machines and a very enjoyable afternoon was spent. Among those who made up the party were Mrs. Rachel Bentley, Mrs. Dwight Cooper, and the Misses Gladys Granger, Henrietta Horne, Lillian Selleck, Margaret Green, Lulu Green, Dorothy Lester, Katherine Green, Fannie Jewett and Clara Armstrong.

Mrs. Rachael Bentley spent last week with her parents in Pomona.

The P.-T. A. will not hold their picnic Friday, August 4, in Wallace's canyon, as had been planned. The plan has been given up on account of so many people being away. The next meeting will be held the first Friday in October or October 6.

The C. E. Society will hold its regular business meeting and social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Colburn in Los Angeles. If you are planning to go or if you have no way to go, let the social committee know; this committee consists of Henrietta Horne, chairman; Mrs. P. H. Johnson, Clara Armstrong and Robert Horne. A rousing good time is planned, so let everyone come.

"RAISING THE TUNE"

Time was when "raising the tune" was a very important function. One who could do it well was in great demand on public occasions. Most of us can sing after some one sets us going. The song hums vaguely in our brain, but we cannot start it. Or, we are unsure of the proper pitch. Hence we need a leader with a good ear and a clear voice.

So in life. Some one else must frequently "raise the tune" for us. In a general way we know how it ought to go. The song of dutifulness is in us. We are capable of high reaches of heroism and profundities of sympathy. But we lack initiative and confidence. We are half afraid to hear our own voices alone. We want sense of fellowship in our ideals and in our sacrifices. But let some one else raise the tune for us, pitch it to loyalty and human service, and we easily catch the rhythm and carry the tune with joy. All honor, then, to the Christian who can "raise the tune." All joy to any of us who can do it for others, and a crown to our Lord who has "raised the tune" for us all.—Selected.

AS DEW ON TENDER PLANTS

As the breath of the dew on the tender plant, kind words fall upon the drooping heart, refreshing its withered tendrils and soothing its burning woes. Bright oases they are in life's great desert. Who can estimate the pangs they have alleviated, or the good works they have accomplished? Long after they are uttered do they reverberate in the soul's inner chambers, and sing low, sweet, liquid strains, that quell all the raging storms that may have before existed. And oh, when the heart is sad, and like a broken harp the sweetest chords of pleasure cease to vibrate, who can tell the power of one kind word?

One little word of tenderness gushing in upon the soul will sweep the long-neglected chords, and awaken the most pleasant strains. Kind words are like jewels in the heart, never to be forgotten, but perhaps to cheer by their memory a long, sad life, while words of cruelty are like darts in the bosom, wounding and leaving scars that will be borne to the grave by their victims.—Selected.

SOWING GOOD SEED

A philanthropic woman of an Indiana city has undertaken the work of giving the people in the rural districts of her State a taste for really good art. It was not easy to get the owners of good pictures to let them go traveling about the country, but this woman in one way and another succeeded in obtaining enough of them to make a fair Artists' Traveling Exhibit.

The collection of pictures is usually taken to the schoolhouse of a community to which the people are invited, and persons capable of giving interesting and popular talks about the pictures and the subject of art in general, entertain and instruct the people. Large numbers of persons, whose acquaintance with art was exceedingly remote, are thus reached and inspired with a liking for artistic things. It is said that the schoolhouses are always crowded, especially by young people.

"The hard lessons learned today make easier the tasks of tomorrow."
